BOOKS FOR SUMMER READING.

UNCLE REMUS: His Songs and Sayings. The Folklore of the Old Plantation. By JOBL CHANDLER HARRIS. I vol., 12mo, cloth. Illustrated from Drawings by F. S. Church, whose humorous animal drawings are so well known, and J. H. Moser, of Georgia. Price, $1.50.

GREAT VIOLINISTS AND PIANISTS. By GEORGE T. FERRIS. Appletons' "New Handy-Volume Series." 18mo, paper, 40 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

"Great Violinists and Pianists" is the fifth volume of Mr. erris' Music Series, now consisting of "The Great Ger-"Great Violinists and Planists" is the fifth volume of Mr.
Ferris' Music Series, now consisting of "The Great German Composers," "The Great Italian and French Composers," "Great Singers, First Series," "Great Singers, Second Series," and "Great Violinists and Planists." Price for the complete set, in cloth, $3; in paper, $1.50.

LOUKIS LARAS: Reminiscences of a Chiote Merchant during the Greek War of Independence. From the modern Greek of D. Bikelas, Appletons' New Handy-Volume Series." Paper, 30 cents.

This fascinating narrative has met with great success abroad, translations having appeared in French, German, Italian, and Spanish, as well as in English. It is a simple story of the adventures and vicissitudes of a Chiote merchant and his family during the Greek War for Independence, written in a singularly felicitous style, and affording a striking picture of the suffering of the Greeks in that desperate struggle.

THE LAND OF GILEAD. With Excursions in the Lebanon. By LAURANCE OLIPHANT. With Illustrations and Maps. Crown 8vo, cloth, $2.

"His journeys took him quite off the beaten tracks of tourists and archæological explorers; he got an 'inside view,' so to call it, of native life and manners; he saw something of the wandering Bedouins; and we know of no recent book on Palestine which is really so instructive, from which the reader can derive so large a fund of entertainment."—Eclectic Magazine.

LADY CLARA DE VERE. A Novelette. From the German of Friedrich Spielhagen. Appletons' "New Handy-Volume Series." 18mo, paper, 25 cents.

The story was undoubtedly suggested by Tennyson's famous poem, "Lady Clara Vere de Vere."

POVERINA. An Italian Story. Appletons' "New Handy-Volume Series." 18mo, paper, Price, 30 cents.

GREAT SINGERS. First Series: Faustina Bordoni to Second Series: Malibran to Titiens. By GEORGE T. FERRIS, author of "The Great German Composers," etc. Appletons' "New Handy-Volume Series." 18mo. Two volumes. Paper, 30 cents each; cloth, 60 cents each. .

THE GREAT GERMAN COMPOSERS. Comprising Biographical and Anecdotical Sketches of Bach, Handel, Gluck, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Schumann, Franz, Chopin, Weber, Mendelssohn, and Wagner. Paper, 30 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

THE GREAT ITALIAN AND FRENCH COMPOSERS. Comprising Biographical and Anecdotical Sketches of Palestrina, Piccini, Paisiello, Cimarosa, Rossini, Donizetti, Bellini, Verdi, Cherubini and his predecessors, Mehul, Spontini, Halevy, Boieldieu, Auber, Meyerbeer, and Gounod. By George T. Ferris. Paper, 30 cents; cloth, 60 cents.

ANECDOTAL HISTORY OF THE BRITISH PARLIA-MENT. From the Earliest Periods to the Present Time, with Notices of Eminent Parliamentary Men and Examples of their Oratory. Compiled by G. H. JENNINGS. One volume, crown 8vo, 546 pages, cloth, $2.50.

"It would be sheer affectation to deny the fascination exercised by the 'Anecdotal History of Parliament." Saturday Review.

THE NEW NOBILITY. A Story of Europe and America. By J. W. FORNEY, author of "Anecdotes of Public Men," etc., etc. 12mo, cloth. Price, $1.50.

This, the first novel by Colonel Forney, is remarkable for its varied scenes and characters, as a reflex of current tur-bulent opinion, for the range of interests and themes which it covers, for its picturesque and animated style, and its stirring incidents.

LL ALONE. A Novelette. By André Thruriet, author of "Gérard's Marriage," "The Two Barbels," ALL ALONE. etc., etc. (Appletons' "New Handy-Volume Series." Paper, 25 cents.

Ready July 9th:

WOOD MAGIC.

A Fable. By RICHARD JEFFERIES, author of "The Gamekeeper at Home," etc., etc. 508 pages, 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

The London Athenaum says of this book: "'Wood Magic' is very charming. The interest of actuality is interwoven with romance; imagination is superadded to observation; and instead of a more or less readable report, we are presented with a pleasant piece of art. The facts are the same, but the manner of their presentation is other than it was; and they seem more novel, more striking, and more attractive for the change."

THE next issue of the WEEKLY will be the annual Educational number. The compilation of all our special issues involves much time and labor, and the Educational number in particular calls for much work and close attention to details. Our subscribers will therefore, we trust, bear with us in the event of any delay in the date of issue, and may rest assured that it will appear as near to the regular date as possible. Advertisers will greatly oblige us by forwarding their favors at the earliest possible moment.

NOTES IN SEASON.

HARPER & BROTHERS have nearly ready Mr. Joseph Hatton's "To-day in America." are preparing, also, to publish Mr. Paul du Chaillu's "Land of the Midnight Sun," which will appear simultaneously in England, Sweden, France and Germany.

NEW editions of Mrs. H. B. Godwin's two novels, "Dr. Howell's Family" and "Christine's Fortune"—domestic stories long out of print and very popular in their day—will be shortly published by A. Williams & Co., uniform in style and price with "A Fair Barbarian" and other books of that class.

R. WORTHINGTON has just issued a handsome, large-type, red-line edition of the revised New Testament, which he has put up in a variety of neat and elegant bindings. Mr. variety of neat and elegant bindings. Worthington is engaged in getting up a large number of juveniles, which are promised to surpass anything ever issued by him, ready "Wood Magic," a fable, by Richard ready "The Gamekeeper at Jefferies, author of "The Gamekeeper at Home." The book has been well received abroad. The London Athenaum says of it: "'Wood Magic' is charming. The interest of abroad. actuality is interwoven with romance; imagination is superadded to observation; and, instead of a more or less readable report we are presented with a pleasant piece of art."

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have in press "Madame de Sévigné," by Miss Thackeray, which makes the thirteenth volume of the Foreign Classics for English Readers. They have now ready of Lippincott's Popular Series of Readers," by Marcius Willson, the first four books, embracing a 1st, 2d, 3d, and 4th Reader. The 5th Reader, and a Supple-mentary Speaker will soon follow. The plan mentary Speaker will soon follow. adopted in the series is unlike any other, a leading feature being a continuous narrative. The illustrations are excellent, and much care has been taken to have them thoroughly finished in accordance with the text

ROBERT CLARKE & Co. announce that they will publish this month, "Book of the Black Bass, comprising its complete scientific and life history, together with a practical treatise on angling and fly-fishing, and a full description of tools, tackle and implements," by Dr. James A. Henshall; "Prose Miscellanies," covering music, art and literature, by Hon. Horace P. Biddle, Judge of Supreme Court of Indiana; "Once a Year; or, The Doctor's Puzzle," a novel, by E. B. S.; a new edition of Hon. F. Hassaurek's "Four Years in Spanish America;" and the first volume of "Pleadings and Parties under the Code, with appropriate forms adapted to the Statutes of Obio, in force July, 1881, with full authorities from all States using a code, and decisions from the common law practice," by Clement Bates. For August they announce "Miami Woods, A Golden Wedding, and other poems," by William D. Gallagher; "The Discovery of the Northwest in 1634, by John Nico-let, with a sketch of his life," by C. W. Butter-field, author of the "Washington Crawford Letters," etc.; "The Shakesperean Myth; or, William Shakespeare and Circumstantial Evidence," by Appleton Morgan, LL.D.; "The St. Clair Papers, a collection of the correspondence and other papers of General Arthur St. Clair, Governor of the Northwest Territory, in the archives of the State of Ohio," edited with a sketch of the General's life and public services, by William Henry Smith; and "Thomas Corwin," a sketch by A. P. Russell, author of "Library Notes."

BUSINESS NOTES.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Geo. A. Searcy & Co., booksellers and stationers, have sold out their business to Alston & Fitts. The new firm solicit catalogues and price-lists from publishers and stationers.

EXETER, N. H.—George E. Lane, the wellknown bookseller and stationer, on the first of July took into co-partnership Mr. James H. Batchelder, who recently returned from Boston. The style of the new firm will be George E. Lane & Co., and has the best wishes of a large number of friends.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

Byron, G: G. N. (Lord). Poetry of Byron, chosen and arranged by Matthew Arnold.

N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1881. 33+276 p. por. S. cl., $1.25. When at last I held in my hand the volume of poems which I had chosen from Wordsworth, and began to turn over its pages, there arose in me almost immediately the desire to see beside it, as a companion volume, a like collection of the best poetry of Byron. Alone amongst our poets of the earlier part of this century, Byron and Wordsworth not only furnish material enough for a volume of this kind, but also, as it seems to me, they both of them gain considerably by being thus exhibited."—Preface.

Cable, G: W. Madame Delphine. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1881. 6+125 p. sq. D. cl.,

75 C. By the author of "The Grandissimes," and "Old Creole days;" in his new story, Mr. Cable again takes us into the enchanted region of "Old Creole days," and introduces us to a new set of acquaintances, no less fascinating than our old friends, the Nancanous and Grandissimes. The period is a little later than that of "The Grandissimes," but the conditions are the same. Madame Delphine Carraze and her daughter Olive, Père Jerome, Captain Ursin Lemaitre, and the rest, all move in the same quaint half Oriental and the rest, all move in the same quaint, half Oriental New Orleans of other days.

Conway, Moncure D. Thomas Carlyle, N.Y.,

Harper, 1881. 255 p. por. and il. D. cl., $1.

"Early in the year 1863, when I first visited England, Emerson gave me a letter of introduction to Thomas Carlyle, which at once secured for me a gracious reception and kindly entertainment from the author and his wife at Chelsea. It was their custom to receive their friends in the evening, and I was invited to join their circle as often as it might be convenient to me.

This little book, which I now send out to the world, was veritably written by Carlyle himself. However inadequately transcribed and conveyed, these pages do faithfully follow impressions made by his own word and spirit upon my mind during an intercourse of many years. Nothing has been imported into them from other publications which have appeared since his death. I have written out my notes and my memories with death. I have written out my notes and my memories with the man still vividly before me, and, as i. were, still speak-ing."—[Extract from Preface.]

"Such narratives are always welcomed. The latest contribution to this fascinating literature is embodied in Major Serpa Pinto's two sub-tantial volumes, a work that abounds in information as yet sealed to the world and episodes of the utmost interest—a book, in fact, which every one who cares to be acquainted with the secrets of Africa will have to read.

At starting he met Mr. H. M. Stanley, who had just successfully completed his unrivalled journey across Africa, and in the volumes before us a just tribute of admiration is paid to the wonderful man who dared to traverse that continent of terrors along its most appalling zone.

The remaining interval, however, was quite sufficient to make the expedition one of the most notable on record, to kill off by far the greater number of the Major's compandons, and to inspire him, as he confesses, with a greater awe of the dark continent than he had thought it possible he should ever entertain."—London Daily Telegraph.

a privateersman's log, 1812: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1881. 81 p. Q. (Franklin sq. lib., no. 194.) pap., 20 c.

This author sprang at once into fame through his "Wreck of the Grosvenor," a realistic story of a shipwreck that was much admired; his later works have been very much in the same style; the present novel deals with the adventures of the schooner Tigress, a well-known privateer, commanded down to Dec., 1814, by Captain Shelvocke, who afterward took charge of the Namar; Shelvocke is the hero, and relates most of the narrative.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."-LORD BACON.

THE PUBLISHERS' TRADE-LIST ANNUAL.

THE TRADE-LIST ANNUAL FOR 1881 can appear "on time." To make this possible, however, requires the prompt co-operation of contributing publishers. All the facilities of this office will be employed to secure its early publication, but without the lists themselves all such efforts will be in vain. If contributors will but heed this request and make early returns, a gain of at least a month can be secured and the trade realize its pleasing effect in the prompter receipt of orders for fall stock. Will not publishers bear this request in mind, and, remembering that the interests of the book trade really demand an early issue of the volume, help the publisher of THE ANNUAL by the contribution of their catalogues at once? In thus meeting the wishes of the trade they will likewise serve their own best interests. Lists must all be in not later than August 6.

It is assuredly unnecessary to speak here of the importance of THE TRADE-LIST ANNUAL as a trade tool, or of the unwisdom manifested by the absence of any list from its pages. But on this point the following extract from Tribner's Record may not be out of place. Noticing THE TRADE-LIST ANNUAL for 1880, it adds:

"We note some publishers habitually exclude themselves from this reference list. should think such a policy 'penny wise and pound foolish,' as since the publication of reference lists very few persons take the trouble to file separate catalogues; those publishers who do not insert their catalogues must necessarily injure their own trade, besides in-conveniencing the public. Tradesmen who conveniencing the public. Tradesmen who are unwilling to advertise their wares in the organs of their trade, where they would naturally be looked for, should retire from business. They remind us of the decayed gentlewoman who called 'water-cresses,' and hoped no one would hear her.

A correspondent of The Bookseller, of London, referring to a similar absence of prominent firms from Whitaker's Reference Catalogue, writes:

"I feel constrained to write thus publicly a word of remonstrance to the publishing houses who are conspicuous by their absence from the new Reference Catalogue. I cannot think that they are aware of its value, not only to us, the country retail booksellers, but to the private purchaser. Day after day do some of us turn to its pages and index for the information we need, and it is a matter of great disappointment and annoyance that a work compiled with so much trouble and care is not thoroughly reliable, simply because some leading houses do not see it to be to their interest, as it most certainly is, to make the small outlay involved in order to have their lists included.

And in much the same strain one of our American booksellers writes of the annoyance and absolute loss which is occasioned by the failure to find the lists of certain publishers in the TRADE-LIST ANNUAL. He says:

"I find the TRADE-LIST ANNUAL so useful for reference that when I go to it and do not find the publisher's list I am looking for, I feel vexed, as though I had been deprived of some of my rights, and I am tempted each time to sit right down and drop the offending publisher a postal card, urging him to see to it in future that his list appears in it. Yesterday it was and to-day it is -I have their lists in pamphlet, but it is a nuisance and takes time to hunt up and refer to them as compared with the ANNUAL, and not unfrequently the very one wanted is mislaid or lost, and then the information desired is not to be had.

" Of late years, since the issue of the Annuals, I have not been so particular about my files. I presume other dealers get 'vexed' from the same cause, and believing that united action would induce the publishers to see that it is for their interest as well as ours to have their lists in the Annual every year, I venture to suggest to you to editorially ask every subscriber to make a personal appeal to such publishers as in their use of the Annual they find do not have their lists inserted.

" If they will all do this, and I for one shall do so in future, I think it must accomplish the desired object. The pressure will be too great for them to resist."

In view of the assurances, so frequently repeated, of the great value of the ANNUAL to the trade, it is to be hoped that no publisher will hesitate to be represented in a volume which is issued as much in his own interest as in the interest of those who purchase and consult it.

THE Committee of Arrangements of the Chicago Stationers' Board of Trade request us to state that the invitations and programmes for the banquet recently held at Chicago, were gotten up by Brown, Pettibone & Kelly, of that city, not by Culver, Page & Hoyne, as given in the report printed by us June 18.

THE AMERICAN CATALOGUE

From the Nation, June 30.

Messrs. Leypoldt and Jones are to be congratulated on the completion of their "American Catalogue." The second volume has appeared, and our literature now has a bibliographical record of which it need not be ashamed. Of what we had before, the less said the better. Roorbach belongs to what might be called the shabby age of American bibliography. Kelly was an improvement in out-ward looks. But Roorbach and Kelly were only lists of authors, and Kelly is now ten years old, whereas the "American Catalogue" comes down to the present time, and includes an alphabet of subjects. In the latter respect we are put on a par with other nations, and have the advantage over some. England has only Watt, equally valuable and difficult to use, and the two subject-volumes of Low's "Eng+ lish Catalogue," extending merely from 1837 to 1858; and a few-very few-special bibliogra-Germany has the subject-volume of phies. Kayser, published in 1838, and covering eightytwo years, from 1750 to 1832; besides Hoppe's "Katalog" and Schwab and Klüpfel's "Wegweiser," which is a careful selection of books published during the nineteenth century, to say nothing of a host of special bibliographies on every conceivable subject, continually brought down to date by supplements or new For France there is the subject-voleditions. ume of Brunet, general in name but prevailingly French in contents, and the excellent volumes of Lorenz' "Table des matières, 1840-75. For Norway there is Botten-Hansen's "Norway elitteraire" But there the list ends. "Norwège littéraire. But there the list ends. Bertocci in Italy and Bruun in Denmark have only begun. Hidalgo in Spain gives only a dictionary of titles with an index of authors, and in Portugal Da Silva's work, valuable as it is, is only a list of authors and their works. The Slavic nations have, so far as we know, no classed bibliographies covering a series of years, though Mezhoff's excellent catalogues offer a substitute in Russia. Dutch literature has a complete author-list; but Van der Meulen's "Register" extends only from 1850 to 1875, and the classed bibliography projected by Muller remains a project.

The "American Catalogue," to be sure, does not profess to be a complete national bibliography, but only a list of the books remaining print" at a certain date; but with this limitation, it is the peer of the works which we have enumerated above. It has been prepared in a conscientious manner that leaves little to be It is excellently printed on good desired. paper, with broad, perhaps too broad, margins. The titles are as exact as a good deal of care and a lively distrust of the publishers' own lists could make them. Though their fulness is far from what is called "bibliographical" it is sufficient for most purposes. Mr. Jones, in a neatly written preface, explains how the work is arranged and what will be found there, and The title-page only promises all what not. works for sale July 1, 1876; but a supplement adds the more recent books of most of the leading publishers. The preface is followed by an admirable list of "bibliographical aids," compiled by Mr. Leypoldt, and introduced with some words of apology which are entirely unnecessary, for it is the most valuable contribution ever made to the bibliography of Eng. lish bibliography. It is a curious indication of the extent and complexity of our literature and of the hurry of the present age that works of this kind—bibliography, as it were, raised to the second power—should have become necessary and even be multiplying. Powers "Handy Book about Books" had not got out of print when Sabin prepared a new and Americanized edition. Petzholdt's "Bibliotheca Bibliographica" is so useful that we are anxiously expecting a supplement exhibiting the publications of the last fifteen years. A member of the Paris Geographical Society who is collecting the titles of bibliographies of geography and travels alone has already found over eleven hundred. The present list, of thirteen quarto pages, is arranged dictionary-fashion under specific subject-headings, with copious crossreferences. As the compiler asks for additions and corrections, we may suggest a cross-reference from Guatemala to Mexico for one of the titles under the latter treats of both countries.

The body of the work follows. We will not be so bold as to say that there are no mistakes in distributing the titles under their proper We can only assert that in poring over the pages for some time and with some care we have found none. The headings seem to have been selected with good judgment. The inevitable difficulty of choosing among synonyms and antonyms is rendered of little account by a liberal supply of cross-references. One thing we object to decidedly—keeping the (subject) "Index to the Appendix" of vol. i. in a separate alphabet from the rest of the work. It was unnecessary, for the whole of vol. i. was printed before the greater part of vol. ii. Nearly all these titles could have been incorporated in the main body of vol. ii., and the nuisance (it is not too strong a word) of two alphabets avoided.* We have examined the comparative number of the entries under the different classes of headings to see if any conclusions could be drawn from them as to the reading of the American public. We have not reached any startling result. Americans appear to distribute their attention with great impartiality through the classes of theology, history and its related sciences, art, science and the arts, and literature. It may be noted that the proportion of theology to all publications is larger than the percentage of theology reported by public libraries as borrowed from them. But it is uncertain whether the reason why the people donot take out more theology is precisely that they have so much of their own-just as nobody takes Shakespeare or the Bible from a public library-or that the classes who buy most theology are not the classes who use public libraries. Our personal observation would lead us to the latter conclusion.

The section containing works about the Bible is noteworthy for two reasons: first, for its length (twenty-one double-columned quarto pages), and, secondly, for a novelty in arrangement. In all catalogues which we can remember the books of the Bible have been arranged in the order in which they came in the English version; here they are arranged alphabetically, which produces a queer effect in its mixture of Old and New Testament names, but is, no doubt, a necessary concession to the dimin-ished familiarity of the present generation with the Scriptures. The works about the "Whole Bible" are thrown into thirty classes. We miss a class, "The Bible and Science," which certainly should have been made for a half-dozen works now lost with a hundred others under the rubric "Miscellaneous." The new Dante Society will find only three works about Dante published as yet in America, and two of them reprints. Shakespeare is usually an important rubric, and we are surprised to see so little under it here—only a column and a half. haps it is a healthy sign that our people are more inclined to read Shakespeare than to read or write about him. Such a work as this must we should think, increase the sale of the books recorded. We have noted half a dozen books in as many minutes on subjects in which we are interested and which we should like to buy. To booksellers, of course, it is indispensable; but it is almost equally needful to careful bookbuyers. It will take its place at once as a most valuable assistant of the book-committee in every library whose purchases extend beyond the merest current literature, or where any attempt is made to fill up particular branches; and it may even be found useful as a supplement and corrective of the classed catalogue, or perhaps as a substitute for one in those unhappy libraries which are too poor to have a guide of their own.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

LONDON, June 21, 1881.

The subject of Carlyle's "Reminiscences" is by no means exhausted. Sir Henry Taylor, author of "Philip Van Artevelde," etc., whom a long acquaintance with Carlyle entitles to a respectful hearing on the subject, contributes to the "Nineteenth Century," for June, an article on them. The "Reminiscences" have, it is said, produced for the niece, Mrs. Alexander Carlyle, as her share, £1100, which, I hear, she has refused to accept from Mr. Froude. There is also reason to believe that a publication of Carlyle's letters may follow the issue of his "Reminiscences" very shortly.

Carlyle's letters may follow the issue of his "Reminiscences" very shortly.

Longmans & Co. have nearly ready a new work on rural life, entitled "Country Pleasures; the Chronicle of a Year, chiefly in a Garden," by George Milner.

A continuation, under the title of "Legends of My Bungalow," of Mr. Frederick Boyle's series of stories and adventures published successively under the titles of "Camp Notes" and "Chronicles of No-Man's Land," will shortly be published by Chapman & Hall.

Elliot Stock announces for immediate publication a new work on Waltham Abbey, copiously illustrated with engravings.

"My Garden Wild, and What I Grew There," is the title of a new volume by Mr. Francis George Heath, author of "The Fern World," etc., to be published very soon by Chatto & Windus. It will include descriptions of upwards of two hundred British wild flowers and terns, and explain their position and arrangement in the "wild" garden whose establishment and history form the subject of Mr. Heath's forthcoming book, the especial object of which is to show how much pleasure and what a delightful occupation may be afforded by the growth in gardens of the "commonest" of wild flowers and ferns.

Mr. Sydney Calvin's "Life of Walter Savage Landor," announced to appear in Macmillan & Co's. English Men of Letters series is in press, and will probably be published at the end of the month.

The long-announced translation of "Thucydides," by Professor Jowett has just-appeared from the Clarendon Press. It is contained in two handsome volumes of about 1350 pages in all. Volume I. comprises the English text, with a marginal analysis, and volume II. the notes, to which are prefixed a long and elaborate essay on inscriptions of the age of Thucydides, and some shorter dissertations. Both volumes are supplied with full and well-arranged indices. The book is intended for the English reader as well as for the scholar.

Mr. Charles Marvin, whose recent books on Central Asia give exhaustive accounts of the Russian wars with the Turcomans up to 1880, intends completing the series with a history of General Skobeleff's recent campaign against the Tekkes of Akhal. This will be called "The Russians beyond the Caspian," and will contain a complete narrative of the twenty-four days' siege of Geok Tepé, by Russian officers engaged in the operations. Numerous illustrations of the war and maps of the conquered region will appear in the volume.

An illustrated edition of "John Ploughman's Talk," by the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon will be published very shortly. The sale has already reached a total of 300,000.

Mr. Stanley Jevons is at work upon a treatise on political economy, to be entitled "The Principles of Economics." Mr. Jevons intends to supplement this treatise by a kind of historical introduction to the study of the science, in the form of a student's edition of Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations." Macmillan & Co. are to be the publishers.

"A Lost Cause; Story of the Polish Rebellion," is the title of a new work, by W. W. Aldred, to be published in a few days by W. H. Allen & Co.

Mrs. Cowden Clarke has nearly ready a new and revised edition of her Concordance to Shakespeare's works.

Alexander Gardner, of Paisley, so well-known for his Scottish publications, has in press a reprint of the articles that appeared in Blackwood's Magazine ten years ago, entitled "The Poetry and Humour of the Scottish Language," the authorship of which is now for the first time avowed, and belongs to Dr. Charles Mackay.

Arthur Sidgwick will publish immediately a new edition of the Agamemnon of Æschylus, with notes suited to boys in the sixth form and undergraduates at the universities.

The Rev. J. Cave-Browne, Vicar of Detling, Kent, is preparing for publication a work on Lambeth Palace and its associations, with an introduction by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The work will contain personal sketches of the Lambeth prelates and a brief account of other palaces and manor-houses belonging to the See. The work will be published by W. Blackwood & Sons.

BRENTANO'S LITERARY EMPORIUM has just ready "The Fifth American Chess Congress," by Chas. A. Gilberg. The volume, which is neatly gotten up, contains a report of the pro-works of fiction, by "Rita," author of "My Lady Coquette," entitled, "A Sinless Secret," and "Young Coelebs," by Percy Fitzgerald, author of "The Life of George IV.," etc. Besides these F. V. White & Co., successors to Samuel Tinsley & Co., will publish shortly a new novel by Florence Marryat, called "My Sister the Actress." C. W. T.

THE LIBRARY JOURNAL PRIZE QUESTION.

THE Library Journal prize question, referred to in our issue of May 14, is now open for competition, and the invitation to the subscribers to the WEEKLY to participate, is herewith repeated. The modification of the rules, partly made by suggestion, are such, it is thought, as will meet with general approval.

RULES FOR COMPETITORS.

1. The object of the present prize question is to obtain a list of books (other than poetry, fiction, juveniles, and such as are enumerated under 4) which a majority of the competitors agree should be found in every library for general readers

2. $100 will be awarded in four prizes for the best lists, as follows: for the best list, $50; for the second, $25; for the third and fourth, $15 and $10, respectively.

3. Every subscriber to the Library Journal or to the Publishers' Weekly is at liberty to compete, either personally or by substitute.

The answer shall consist of a list of Too individual works (independent of the number of volumes) selected with the restrictions as specified below.

["Individual," not collective. For instance, if Macaulay's works were admitted and chosen, they should not be given in one number as works, but enumerated, "History of England," "Essays," etc., each work occupying a number; on the other hand, the "individual work" should not be carried to the extreme of enumerating his essays.]

Excluded from competition:

a. Works not properly belonging to the present century.

b. Poetry, fiction, and juveniles (reserved for a future prize question).

dictionaries, gazetteers, atlases, epitomes

of authors, selections (even if accompanied by introductions or sketches of authors) and periodicals.

of authors, selections (even if accompanied by introductions or sketches of authors) and periodicals.

d. Technical and professional works; dogmatic theology; elementary text-books.

[It is impossible to draw a definite line under this rule. While the "technical" is clearly intended to exclude the industrial arts, manufactures and trades, military and naval science, etc.; the "professional," law and medicine; the "dogmatic," theological treatises; the "elementary," the school-book proper, it must be left to the judgment of the competitor, in fact it is the very task set by the question, to what extent it is desirable to draw, say, on the natural sciences, fine arts, political and social science, mental and moral philosophy, religious or Christian and educational literature, etc. Clearly it is not intended to rule these out. The question was asked whether a cookery-book can be admitted. Certainly, but—at the risk of the competitor. No lists will be excluded from competition which include works that are not, by the letter, ruled out. Only the competitor should remember that the chances will be poor indeed should he venture too much on the borderland. When in doubt it always is a safer method to choose what is less doubtful. It was asked, too, whether regard should be paid to cost. That will not be a winning list which bristles with rare and costly books, yet no rule excludes them.]

Anat will not be a winning list which bristles with rare and costly books, yet no rule excludes them.]

Schiller, Spencer (Herbert), Strickland (Mrs.), Taylor (Bayard), Thackeray, Thiers, Tocqueville, Tyndall.

f. Such series as: Classics for English readers, English men of letters, English philosophers, Epochs of history, Great artists and musicians, Philosophical classics, Plutarch series, etc.

g. Works in foreign languages (translations, however,

5. The lists must be written legibly in ink. with short titles and names of authors preceding titles and numbered consecutively; the first twenty arranged in accordance with the estimation in which they are held by the competitor. They must be presented in two forms): (1) on a single sheet (each book beginning a new line; (2) on single slips, each containing title of only one book and its number. This will greatly reduce the labor of determining the result of the vote. 6. Each sheet (not each slip) must be signed with the full name and address of the competitor. (Only the names of the successful competitors will be published.)

7. While no restrictions are placed in the way of information or consultation, it is against the spirit of the Prize Question to present the same votes by mutual agreement among competitors themselves. Identic lists or list which plainly show co-operation must therefore be rejected.

8. The prizes will be awarded to those lists which aggregate the greatest number of votes. The vote on each book is determined by the number of lists (or slips) which contain it. Thus if a book is found on ten lists it counts

9. Answers are due September 1.

10. Inquiries and lists should be addressed to F. Leypoldt, 13 and 15 Park Row, N. Y.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

MR. RICHARD GRANT WHITE will soon contribute a series of illustrated articles on "The History of Opera in New York," to Scribner's These papers are announced to be a Monthly. part only of an historical and critical work on music in America, which Mr. White has had in contemplation for a long time.

WITH the issue for July 7, the Nation became the weekly edition of the New York Evening It retains its name, and has the same editorial management as heretofore and an increased staff of contributors, but its contents will in the main have already appeared in the Evening Post. Its political and literary standards remain unchanged. The size is enlarged ards remain unchanged. The size is enlarged to twenty-four pages of the present form, but three columns. The the page is divided into three columns. subscription price is at the same time reduced to $3 per annum.

THE American Art Review increases in excellence with each succeeding number. lishers, Messrs. Estes & Lauriat, richly deserve success in their undertaking to furnish America with an art publication which shall be second to none in every respect. Each issue contains one or more etchings, and a large number of full-page and smaller engravings. The literary portion is fully equal to the artistic; besides leading articles on ancient and modern art, biographies of artists and their works, the Review gives a survey of the whole field of art and matters relating to it. The bibliography, also, is very full.

For 1881 [Twelfth Year].

COMPILED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

The Educational Catalogue has been found so valuable to the Trade, not only as a finding list, but for circulation among educational customers, for the purpose of soliciting orders and saving at the same time much troublesome correspondence, that its permanent continuance is recognized as a necessity.

The catalogue this year follows the alphabetical system adopted last year, and pronounced by the experience of the trade the most satisfactory for practical use. It includes a price-list arranged alphabetically by author's or editor's name, and a detailed subject-index, referring from each specific subject to authors of books on that subject, so that the advantages of both a finding-list for the trade and a class catalogue for the use of schools are combined. The list has been entirely reset, to include the new books in their proper alphabetical order, and also to embody all the corrections of prices, omissions, or other errors in last year's catalogue. For this purpose, sheets of last year's entries have been sent to each publisher for his revision, that this official catalogue may be as accurate as a catalogue can possibly be made.

Publisher's prices are in all cases given—retail, if retail (in first column); "net," if "net" [in second column]; where a "mailing" percentage is specified by the publisher, the "mailing price" is given in the retail column marked with an asterisk [*], in addition to the wholesale price. A carefully-drawn explanation in the heading, to private buyers, adapts the catalogue to the use of the retail trade.

The Educational Catalogue in its present shape has been found to serve thoroughly the purposes of those dealers who wish to keep as much of the educational trade as possible in their own hands, and work up more, by sending such a list out to schools and teachers. This catalogue is acknowledged the most complete and accurate in the market, and especially in its new shape, will be found by far the most convenient and satisfactory.

In making up special orders for the Educational Catalogue, booksellers should bear in mind that it possesses not only temporary value, but will serve its purpose during the whole year. No imprint edition of less than 100 copies can be supplied. Orders for editions should be sent to us at once.

CASH TERMS.

With sole imprint of ordering firm, and stitched, per 100 copies, $5; per 1000 copies, $40.

There is no extra charge for printing name, business card, etc., on the imprint page; the last page is left blank at the disposal of the dealer, but any copy for that, advertising special lines or general business, will be set up and printed thereon for $5 the page, or $1 if plate is sent.

 Copy for imprint and shipping directions should accompany the order.

The regular Educational Number of "THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY" will be supplied at 25 cents per copy, or five for $1, postpaid.

"This is a pleasant little book, made up of graphic sketches of famous places visited in a European journey. The author has not only the happy faculty of telling well what she sees, but the rarer faculty of seeing well. Her sketches make beautiful pictures of the charming spots she describes, while the people move in and out in workday and holiday attire, giving to all a living reality. It is thus that the Roman carnival, descriptions of Paris, and the easy, careless life of the people living in the open air, the pompous and impressive Parliament day, etc., are as pleasant pen pictures as one often sees. It is a capital book for the pocket or satchel of summer tourists, not only for its interest, but from the convenience of its small, compact form," says the Chicago Inter-Ocean.
